UNTER DEN LINDEN - Ex - MI5 Intelligence Officer and Whistleblower Annie Machon in Berlin

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

The role of intelligence agencies in the modern world:

- What can we learn from intelligence insiders?
- What is it like to be targeted and what makes a whistleblower?
- Can we apply this experience to the challenges we are facing today?

Mass media is struggling with its coverage of intelligence matters.

There are no simple answers and conclusions are difficult to draw, assessing a wide range of opinions is critical for those who have to take decisions...

We have the chance to welcome former British MI5 Intelligence Officer and Whistleblower Annie Machon.

Where: BM - Berlin Moscow
Unter den Linden 52
10117 Berlin

When: September 24th, 2014

Time: 19:00 h

Language: Mainly English, questions can be asked in German.

Annie Machon will present her assessment of the intelligence activities and inside chances.

Topics will include:

- The role of modern intelligence agencies,
- What it's like to blow the whistle and go on the run,
- Oversight and proportionality of intelligence agencies within a democracy,
- The role and control of the media,
- The way forward?

There will be enough time for Q&A; so you are invited to shape the topics.

Please indicate asap your attendance by replying to this e-mail before September 22nd.
